CHEERLEADERS & MASCOT

Kids of all ages will enjoy the Arkansas cheerleaders and Big Red mascot at home events. The Razorback cheerleaders and Big Red, under the direction of Jean Nail and Kraig Jimenez, will be there for every home meet!

At nearly 15,000 square feet, the training facility is one of the largest in the nation. It is located on the first floor of the Bev Lewis Center.

Named in spring 2003, the Huntley Gymnastics Training Facility is one of the finest practice facilities in the country.

The Huntley Facility features state-of-the-art design with an open floor plan to work every area of gymnastics training.

Designed to reduce hard landings, the Huntley Facility has three vault runways with cushioned tracks and both foam and "resi" pits. With three bar work stations to train on, the Razorbacks can also use the channel pit for training. The practice facility has five beam stations with a variety of landing choices and a full-size, 40x40 floor exercise near the center of the room.

The gymnastics training room is located just steps from the floor exercise area and has a hydrotherapy room as well as a treatment area for athletes. The glass wall facing the practice facility allows the full-time staff to remain in the training room while still keeping the gym in full view.

The coaches' offices are also adjacent to the gym and also feature large windows facing into the practice facility.

The Razorbacks enter their facility through the reception area and can directly access the gym or their locker room. The locker room area includes locker and dressing facilities, showers, a team meeting area, lounge and kitchenette.

In addition to the offices and locker room suite, the Huntley Gymnastics Training Facility has a laundry and equipment room as well as storage exclusively for the Razorbacks.

The curved entry way (below) allows Razorbacks to pass through the reception area and head down to the coaches offices and out into the gym (above) or turn left through the door and into the locker room.

LEWIS CENTER - HUNTLEY FACILITY

The vault runways allow athletes to choose from several landing surfaces (above). The Razorbacks can also work on their tumbling passes on the floor exercise area and fall off the mat into a large "resi" pit.

The vault tables (above) and the full-size floor exercise area, which anchors the room (above left).

Five different beams (left) make practices efficient, and the Razorbacks have several soft landings to choose from when trying new dismounts.

BARNHILL ARENA - WHERE WE COMPETE

When the University of Arkansas made the decision to welcome gymnastics in 2001, the entire Athletic Department underwent a change.

The continued growth of the Athletic Department, including the addition of four sports in 10 years, impacted the facilities at the university on a grand scale. The addition of gymnastics prompted Barnhill Arena, previously the largest volleyball-only facility in the country, to welcome its new roommate.

Barnhill began its adaptation to a volleyball/gymnastics facility with an internal face lift. Changes included a new paint job in areas immediately surrounding the playing surface, new lights to accommodate the space requirements of gymnastics, and a state-of-the-art sound system and scoreboards which are both Razorbacks and fan friendly.

When the Razorbacks finally reached campus in the fall of 2002, the fans came. In fact, fans came in droves and by the end of the 2003 season, Arkansas ranked fourth in the nation in attendance, averaging 4,739 people per event.

Arkansas' season best came against No. 4 Alabama when 5,524 fans passed through the doors for the meet. That mark ranked sixth-best in the nation for a single meet in 2005. The Alabama meet attendance was just one of a pair of 5,000-plus fans as Arkansas welcomed 5,427 against No. 5 Florida.

The Razorbacks saw 4,732 fans against No. 4 Georgia and 4,231 fans packed Barnhill against No. 16 Denver in the first meet ever in the arena. And that was just the first season.

Arkansas' attendance numbers continue to flourish and the Razorbacks have ranked in the top 15 each of their nine seasons, including No. 11 in 2011.

Fans in 2011 witnessed a win over No. 1 Florida and the program's first victory over Georgia, ranked No. 4 at the time, as Arkansas claimed a share of the Southeastern Conference regular-season title.

The Razorbacks welcomed the program's first NCAA Regional Championship in 2006 and hosted a big meet with the Super Six Challenge in 2007. Arkansas also hosted the NCAA South Central Regional in April 2009. Barnhill is the site of the South Central Regional for the third time this season with the event slated for Barnhill on April 7 at 4 p.m.

2012 SEASON PREVIEW

If the first nine years in the history of Arkansas gymnastics are any indication, year No. 10 in 2012 will be another season to remember.

Arkansas' gymnastics program is celebrating its 10-year anniversary this year, and with four returning All-Americans, like past seasons, it will be marked by post-season success, highlights, accomplishments and another spot in the national championship.

In nine years, co-head coaches Mark and René Cook have carried the Razorback program to national prominence as Arkansas is a consistent contender for NCAA regional and national honors.

The Razorbacks have earned a spot in an NCAA Regional eight of their first nine years, all except the first season of 2003. Arkansas has won two NCAA Regional titles and finished second three more times.

"It's been quite an experience," René says. "This program has achieved things no one believed possible in such a short amount of time. I'm excited about celebrating that this year, and continuing our success and tradition."

Arkansas has advanced to the NCAA Championship five times, including the last four years, and reached the Super Six in 2009. In 2011, the Razorbacks recorded their third top 10 finish in four years. In nine years of existence, the Razorbacks have seven top 15 final national rankings, all in the last seven years.

"It has flown by," Mark says. "It's surreal. We're proud of what we've accomplished, but we're looking forward to doing more."

Four Razorbacks combined for seven All-America honors a year ago, and all four return for the 2012 season. In nine years, eight Razorbacks have combined for 28 All-America honors and 13 appearances in the NCAA individual event finals.

Arkansas has also built one of the most loyal followings in the country as the Razorbacks have ranked among the nation's top 15 in average attendance all nine seasons.

The Razorbacks were 16-10-1 a year ago, setting school records with seven dual-meet wins, four dual-meet road wins and five SEC victories, including three SEC road victories. They won a share of the SEC regular-season title and set a school record in the SEC Championship with a score of 195.80. Arkansas earned a spot in an NCAA Regional for the eighth straight year, won the NCAA North Central Regional for its second regional title in three years, advanced to the NCAA Championship for the fourth consecutive season, finished fourth in the NCAA Session II semifinal to miss the Super Six by one spot and ended the year tied for ninth in the country.

For year No. 10, expectations are the same as in the past.

"Our goal is to qualify for the NCAA Championship for the fifth year in a row," Mark says. "We want to perform at a high level with consistency. We want to qualify for the Super Six. Our ultimate goal is to be on the podium at nationals as one of the top three teams."

"Our goals are to compete as a top six program week in and week out," René says. "We want to consistently perform at a high level so when we get to the post-season, we are comfortable."

The Razorbacks are accustomed to performing and competing at the highest level. Eleven return from last year, including All-Americans Jaime Pisani, Katherine Grable, Amy Borsellino and Kelci Lewis.

Genny Salvatore is one of three seniors who will lead the 2012 Razorbacks.

Pisani, a senior, is UA's all-time leader with nine All-America honors, three in each of her three seasons. Last year, she was first-team on floor, and second-team in the all-around and on beam.

"She's a great athlete, student, team member and leader," René says. "To see Jaime improve and mature during her career has been personally fulfilling."

Grable became the first freshman in school history to earn first-team All-America honors (floor). She was also second-team on vault.

"Kat is really settling into our system and collegiate gymnastics," Mark says. "She's maximizing her potential. We look for her to be one of the top all-arounders in the country."

Borsellino, a junior, was a first-teamer on vault, and she joined Pisani and Grable in advancing to the NCAA individual event finals.

"She is really excited this year and it's showing," Mark says.

Lewis, also a junior, earned second-team honors on floor.

"She's worked hard on her technique and matured a lot," René says. "We will definitely count on her for high scores."

That group is joined by seven other veterans, including seniors Mariah Howdeshell and Genny Salvatore, juniors Jordan Salsberg and Amanda Siebert, and sophomores Shelby Salmon, Scarlett Williams and Bailee Zumwalde. All seven were regulars in last year's lineup.

They are joined by freshmen Stephani Canizaro of Nesbit, Miss., and Sammy Kolbas of Naperville, Ill.

"Since the end of last season, we've worked hard on our flexibility, strength and on our overall technique along with adding difficulty to all four events," René says. "We're really excited about the potential of this year's team."

VAULT

Amy Borsellino and Katherine Grable were first and second-team All-Americans a year ago, respectively, with Borsellino advancing to the NCAA individual event finals and Grable winning an NCAA Regional Championship. Jaime Pisani was a first-team All-American in 2010 and a second-teamer in 2009.

Pisani won individual titles against BYU, Florida, UIC and West Virginia, and Grable won in the regional and against Denver.

As a team, the Razorbacks recorded a 49.325 at the SEC Championship, a 49.175 at the NCAA North Central Regional, a 49.25 in the regular-season win over No. 1 Florida and a 49.00 in the win over No. 4 Georgia.

"So many of our vaults are exciting," Mark says. "We have more height and distance than a year ago."

"Our returnees are all better," René says. "They are more comfortable with their landings."

Borsellino had highs of 9.90 at the NCAA Championship and 9.85 at the NCAA Regional. Grable had a 9.90 at the NCAA Regional and at Denver, and a 9.875 at the NCAA Championship, at the SEC Championship and against Florida.

Pisani had 9.90s at the SEC meet, at Illinois-Chicago and against Alabama; Kelci Lewis had a 9.85 at UIC and a 9.80 at Auburn; Jordan Salsberg had a best of 9.875 at the SEC meet and at UIC; and Scarlett Williams posted 9.80s against West Virginia and BYU.

sophomore. In 2010, she had highs of 9.85 against Kentucky, and 9.825 against Auburn, Minnesota and in the NCAA Championship.

"Our two seniors, Mariah and Jaime, are better, and Katherine has a more difficult vault," Mark says. "We have some aggressive, pretty vaults."

BARS

The senior class is expected to lead the bar team.

"We've really improved our lines and handstands," Mark says. "Jaime and Mariah are two of our top performers. Genny's knee is stronger and she's improved her dismount."

As a team, Arkansas posted highs last year of 49.20 in the win over Florida, 49.175 at the NCAA North Central Regional and in the win over West Virginia, and 49.025 in the win over Georgia.

The highlight in 2011 may have been Salvatore, who after four knee surgeries made the lineup and competed in the last nine meets of the season. In just her second meet, she won the individual title with a 9.80 against BYU. She had a 9.80 in her first outing at LSU and a high of 9.85 in the win over Florida.

Grable had bests of 9.825 at the NCAA Championship, the NCAA Regional and West Virginia. Howdeshell finished third at the NCAA Regional with a 9.90 and had a 9.85 at the SEC meet.

"Jordan and Shelby have changed their combinations so they have better routines," Mark says. "Stephani is a freshman who is fun to watch and Sammy is a strong bar worker. She's aggressive. Amy is doing well. We've changed some combinations to eliminate some deductions and pushing the girls harder."

Pisani won individual titles against Alabama, Auburn and West Virginia. Howdeshell won at LSU and Salvatore against BYU. Pisani had highs of 9.90 against Florida and West Virginia, and a 9.85 at the regional. Salmon had a 9.80 against Florida and Georgia, and Salsberg a 9.80 at Auburn and four 9.775s.

"Their mentality is different," René says. "They are much more aggressive. As we went through the season last year, we felt that event was weak. The way they've been training, Mark has upped the expectations. They are mentally tougher."

The freshman class came in with strong credentials. Kolbas won the 2009 J.O. national title while Canizaro placed third at the 2011 J.O. National Championship.

BEAM

The beam team has strong depth with nine competitors for the six lineup positions, including a second-team All-American in Pisani.

"I'm really pleased with the beam team," René says. "Our top four competitors had solid seasons last year and they have all improved in execution and difficulty."

Three Razorbacks return who combined for seven individual titles last year. Grable won in meets with BYU, UIC, West Virginia and Denver. Salsberg tied Grable for the title at UIC and also won at Kentucky. Pisani won against Florida. As a team, the Razorbacks posted a 49.325 at UIC, a 49.20 against West Virginia, and a 49.15 against Florida and at Denver.

"Last year, half the lineup was newcomers (Grable, Salsberg, Salmon and Williams)," René says. "Our top four are Katherine, Jordan, Jaime and Scarlett. Shelby has improved, Kelci has continued to improve and Amy has come on strong. Both freshmen will vie for lineup positions as well."

"All of them gained confidence through the course of last season and have worked hard to improve execution and upgrade difficulty," she says.

Grable had highs of 9.90 at Denver and 9.875 against WVU; Pisani a 9.875 against Florida and three 9.825s; Salmon a 9.825 at Denver and 9.775 at LSU; Salsberg 9.85s at UIC and Denver, and a 9.825 at the NCAA Regional; and Williams a 9.775 against Oklahoma, Auburn and WVU.

"They are being aggressive," Mark says. "I look for them to be more mentally tough. We were good last year, but we will be better this year."

FLOOR

The floor group is led by three returning All-Americans in Pisani, Grable and Lewis. Pisani and Grable reached the NCAA event finals where they tied for fifth and placed ninth respectively. Pisani is also the school record-holder with a 9.95, which she matched four times in 2011.

One change is the addition of former Razorback Samantha Cortez as assistant coach.

"I'm really happy with the floor team," Cortez says. "In the summer we pushed hard to upgrade the difficulty on everyone's routine. We spent a lot of time doing drill and prep work. Almost everyone has upgraded their tumbling pass."

Last year, Arkansas had highs of 49.325 at UIC, 49.30 at the NCAA Regional and at Denver, 49.275 at the NCAA Championship, 49.20 against WVU, 49.15 against Florida and 49.125 against Georgia.

Pisani was almost an automatic with 11 individual titles, including the NCAA Session I semifinal, the NCAA Regional, Oklahoma, Alabama, Kentucky, Georgia, LSU, BYU, Florida, UIC and WVU. Grable earned one, tying Pisani against Georgia.

Pisani matched her school record of 9.95 at the NCAA Championship, at the NCAA Regional, and against UIC and West Virginia. Grable had a 9.90 at the NCAA Championship, in the NCAA Regional and against WVU. Borsellino made the lineup for the final five meets and had a 9.875 at Denver, a 9.85 at the regional and a 9.825 at the NCAA Championship. Lewis had a 9.875 at UIC, and a 9.85 at the NCAA Championship and at Denver. Salsberg had a 9.80 at the regional, and against Georgia, UIC and Denver. Zumwalde had a 9.825 against Alabama, and three 9.80s.

"Jaime is focused on maintaining what she did last year and upgraded her last floor pass," Cortez says. "Katherine has upgraded her first and middle pass. Kelci has changed her middle pass, which is more difficult. Jordan added a full in to her first pass. Amy has done really well and improved her first pass. Bailee has upgraded with a change to her middle pass, and she loves her new routine. Stephani is very expressive and a beautiful dancer. We have a lot of depth. I'm also pleased with our music selection and choreography. It's all coming together."

"We could potentially have everyone in the floor lineup with an e-tumbling pass," René says. "Floor has improved immensely since last year. The girls have responded to working with Sam. The routines, choreography and music are outstanding. I'm looking forward to seeing them compete."

Arkansas is celebrating its 10-year anniversary this season. Mark Cook has been there for every step as the Razorback program has become one of the best and most respected in the country.

In 2003, the first year Arkansas fielded a team, the Razorbacks finished No. 41 in the final national rankings. In 2004, Arkansas finished in the top 20 and has been a national power since.

Arkansas is coming off its third top 10 national finish in four years after tying for ninth at the 2011 NCAA Championship. The Razorbacks also won the NCAA North Central Regional.

In nine seasons with the Razorbacks, Cook has led Arkansas into an NCAA Regional championship eight consecutive seasons, to the NCAA Championship four straight years and five of the last six, to two NCAA Regional championships, to one Super Six, to an SEC regular-season co-championship and to seven straight top 15 final national rankings.

Individually, Arkansas has had seven student-athletes combine for 28 All-America honors and seven combine for 13 appearances in the NCAA individual event finals.

Cook, an SEC and NCAA South Central Regional Coach of the Year honoree, focuses on the vault and bars events. Arkansas has ranked in the top 25 in both each of the last five years, including tying for No. 9 on vault and No. 22 on bars in 2011.

Cook has coached five different Razorbacks to eight All-America honors on vault, three to four honors on bars and three to four honors in the all-around. Of those 16 All-America honors, eight have been first-team. He has also guided four Razorbacks into six appearances in the NCAA individual event finals with three top five finishes.

In 2011, Arkansas recorded its second-best finish ever. The Razorbacks won the NCAA North Central Regional, beating No. 1 Florida for the title. Arkansas tied for fourth in the NCAA Session I Semifinal to tie for ninth in the country and missed advancing to the Super Six for the second time in program history by one spot. Cook's team also beat top-ranked Florida during the regular season, recorded its first-ever win over Georgia, which was ranked No. 4 at the time, had 11 wins over teams ranked in the top 25, beat LSU in Baton Rouge for the first time, set school records with seven dual meet wins and four wins on the road, set school records with five SEC wins and three SEC road wins, and ranked No. 11 in the nation in attendance average for its ninth straight top 15 ranking.

Individually, junior Jaime Pisani, sophomore Amy Borsellino, sophomore Kelci Lewis and freshman Katherine Grable combined for seven All-America honors. Pisani was first-team on floor, and second-team on beam and in the all-around. Borsellino earned her first All-America honor as a first-teamer on vault. Lewis was a second-teamer on floor. Grable was a first-teamer on floor and a second-teamer on vault, becoming the first freshman in program history to be a first-team All-American.

Pisani won 28 individual event titles, finished ranked No. 3 in the nation on floor and No. 5 in the all-around. In the NCAA event finals, she tied for fifth on floor. Grable ended the year ranked No. 16 in the all-around, and tied for ninth on floor in the event finals. Borsellino placed 15th in the finals on vault.

In addition, Pisani became the first Razorback to earn South Central Regional Gymnast of the Year honors and departed senior Michelle Stout was named the SEC's co-Scholar-Athlete of the Year. Pisani and Grable also both earned second-team All-SEC honors, on vault and in the all-around, respectively.

In 2010, Arkansas was ranked seventh at the end of the regular season and finished No. 11 in the nation after the NCAA nationals. Arkansas also finished second in the NCAA West Regional, placed No. 11 in the nation in average attendance, led the SEC in team grade point average and ranked No. 16 in the country, set school records for overall team score and on bars, recorded five of the top eight overall team scores in program history and had wins over eight top 25 ranked opponents. Arkansas ranked No. 11 on vault and No. 13 on bars.

Cook helped guide senior Casey Jo Magee and Pisani to All-America status at the 2010 national championship. The pair combined for six appearances in the NCAA individual event finals. Magee was second in the nation in the all-around, the highest finish ever for a Razorback, and fourth on beam, tied for fifth on bars and 12th on floor. Pisani was 10th on floor and 12th on vault.

In 2009, Arkansas advanced to the NCAA Super Six for the first time, had a national fifth-place finish and a final ranking of No. 5, won the NCAA South Central Regional and recorded wins over No. 1 Florida, No. 2 Utah, No. 4 Stanford, No. 6 LSU, No. 6 Oregon

State, No. 7 UCLA, No. 7 Oklahoma and No. 9 Alabama. Arkansas' No. 5 final team ranking included a No. 6 ranking on vault and a No. 10 finish on bars.

Stout was a first-team All-American on vault and bars, and Magee and Pisani were second-team All-Americans on vault.

In 2008, Arkansas had wins over No. 6 Alabama, No. 8 Oregon State, No. 9 UCLA, No. 12 Penn State and No. 14 Auburn. Arkansas finished second in the NCAA North Central Regional and advanced to the NCAA Championship. Arkansas finished the year ranked No. 10 in the nation, including No. 11 on vault and No. 14 on bars.

Stout was a first-team All-American on vault, and Magee a second-team All-American on vault and bars.

Cook has coached seven All-Southeastern Conference selections, nine SEC gymnasts of the week picks, seven SEC Community Service Team members, 69 SEC academic team selections, 62 NACGC/W Academic Scholar-Athletes and eight All-Americans to 28 honors.

STARTING A PROGRAM

Cook came to Arkansas in May 2001 to build the Razorback program from scratch. He was consulted on the construction of one of the top practice facilities in the nation. He selected, ordered and assembled equipment; and helped fans and Northwest Arkansas quickly accept and learn about his sport. He was also scouting, recruiting and signing the first recruiting class in school history.

Arkansas' first team, an all-freshman lineup in 2003, finished its inaugural season ranked No. 41 in the nation with No. 37 and No. 43 rankings on bars and vault, respectively.

In 2004, Arkansas earned an NCAA Regional appearance and a top 20 national ranking (No. 20) in just the second season in program history. In addition, the Razorbacks had their first all-conference athlete in Melissa Leigh on bars. Arkansas was No. 24 in the nation on bars and No. 32 on vault.

The 2005 team also advanced to a regional and finished with an overall ranking of No. 26. The Razorbacks were No. 18 on bars and No. 27 on vault.

In 2006, the first recruiting class in school history helped Arkansas upset No. 9 UCLA in the NCAA South Central Regional, took the Razorbacks to their first NCAA Championship and ended the year ranked No. 12. Arkansas was No. 20 on both vault and bars.

PRIOR TO ARKANSAS

Cook was the head coach at Stanford University for four seasons (1998-2001), leading the Cardinal to two Pac-10 titles, four NCAA Regional appearances, and two NCAA top 10 finishes, and produced several individual and team records which still stand. He coached the program's first individual national champion, Larissa Fontaine on vault. During his tenure, Stanford finished as high as eighth in the nation (2001).

Prior to Stanford, Cook helped build NCAA and Pac-10 champions at UCLA as an

He produced numerous level 10 gymnasts, had athletes qualify for the USA Junior Olympic National Team and produced several elite gymnasts who competed at US Classics and USA Championships. In his final two years at Clovis, Cook also served as the academy director. Cook was named the Elite Coach of the Year by the United States Elite Coaches Association in 1989.

Individual honors include induction into the Diablo Valley (Pleasant Hill, Calif.) College Hall of Fame, where he competed as a gymnast from 1972-74, in 2010; 2009 NCAA South Central Region co-Head Coach of the Year, 2008 SEC co-Head Coach of the Year, and 2001 Pac-10 and NCAA West Region Head Coach of the Year awards.

This season is the 10-year anniversary of Arkansas' program, and from the beginning René Cook has been building the Razorbacks into one of the most successful and entertaining teams in the nation.

The 2011 squad won the NCAA North Central Regional and tied for ninth in the nation at the NCAA Championship for Arkansas' third top 10 finish in four years. In these first nine years, Cook has led Arkansas to eight consecutive NCAA Regional appearances, four straight appearances in the NCAA Championship with a total of five during the last six years. In addition, under Cook's guidance the program qualified to the Super Six, won two NCAA Regional championships, won an SEC regular-season co-championship, and earned seven straight final top 15 national rankings and nine straight national top 15 average attendance rankings. Individually, Arkansas has had eight student-athletes combine for 28 All-America honors and seven combine for 13 appearances in the NCAA individual event finals.

Arkansas' primary beam coach while assisting on all four events, Cook has guided Arkansas to top 25 final national rankings for seven straight years. Arkansas was No. 13 on beam in 2011, No. 9 in 2010; No. 16 in 2009; and No. 16 in 2008.

Cook has guided three individuals to four All-America honors on beam along with three to four selections in the all-around. Cook has also coached five Razorbacks to seven appearances in the NCAA individual event finals with three top five finishes.

An SEC and NCAA South Central Regional Coach of the Year honoree, Cook coached Casey Jo Magee to the 2009 SEC beam title, to two NCAA Regional titles and to a No. 1 national ranking. In 2010, Magee became the first No. 1-ranked Razorback in program history, reaching the top spot on beam on March 1 and March 8, and tying for the top position on March 22.

In 2011, Arkansas recorded its second-best finish ever. The Razorbacks won the NCAA North Central Regional, beating No. 1 Florida for the title. Arkansas tied for fourth in the NCAA Session I Semifinal to tie for ninth in the country and missed advancing to the Super Six for the second time in program history by one spot. Cook's team also beat top-ranked Florida during the regular season, recorded its first-ever win over Georgia, which was ranked No. 4 at the time, had 11 wins over teams ranked in the top 25, beat LSU in Baton Rouge for the first time, set school records with seven dual meet wins and four wins on the road, set school records with five SEC wins and three SEC road wins, and ranked No. 11 in the nation in attendance average for its ninth straight top 15 ranking.

Individually, Pisani, sophomore Amy Borsellino, sophomore Kelci Lewis and freshman Katherine Grable combined for seven All-America honors. Pisani was first-team on floor, and second-team on beam and in the all-around. Borsellino earned her first All-America honor as a first-teamer on vault. Lewis was a second-teamer on floor. Grable was a first-teamer on floor and a second-teamer on vault, becoming the first freshman in program history to be a first-team All-American.

Pisani won 28 individual event titles, and in the NCAA event finals tied for fifth on floor. Grable ended the year ranked No. 16 in the all-around, and tied for ninth on floor in the event finals. Borsellino placed 15th in the finals on vault.

In addition, Pisani became the first Razorback to earn South Central Regional Gymnast of the Year honors and departed senior Michelle Stout was named the SEC's co-Scholar-Athlete of the Year. Pisani and Grable also both earned second-team All-SEC honors, on vault and in the all-around, respectively.

Arkansas was No. 11 overall in the nation in 2010, finished second in the NCAA West Regional, advanced to the NCAA Championship for the third consecutive season, placed No. 11 in the nation in average attendance, led the SEC in team grade point average and ranked No. 16 in the country, set school records for overall team score and on bars, recorded five of the top eight overall team scores in program history and had wins over eight top 25 ranked opponents.

Individually in the 2010 season, Magee and Pisani combined for seven All-America honors with Magee a first-teamer in the all-around, on bars, beam and floor; and Pisani a first-teamer on vault and floor, and a second-teamer in the all-around. The pair also combined for six appearances in the NCAA individual event finals. Magee was second in the nation in the all-around, the highest finish ever for a Razorback, and fourth on beam, tied for fifth on bars and 12th on floor. Pisani was 10th on floor and 12th on vault.

In 2009, Arkansas advanced to the NCAA Super Six for the first time in school history, finished fifth in the NCAA Championship and had a No. 5 final ranking, and recorded wins over No. 1 Florida, No. 2 Utah, No. 4 Stanford, No. 6 LSU, No. 6 Oregon State, No. 7 UCLA, No. 7 Oklahoma and No. 9 Alabama. Alexandra LaChance and Sarah Nagashima earned first-team All-America honors while Magee was a first-team All-SEC selection.

In 2008, Arkansas had wins over No. 6 Alabama, No. 8 Oregon State, No. 9 UCLA, No. 12 Penn State and No. 14 Auburn. Arkansas finished second in the NCAA North Central Regional and advanced to the NCAA Championship. Arkansas finished the year ranked No. 10 in the nation.

The 2007 squad finished third in the NCAA Northeast Regional and had regular-season wins over No. 14 Auburn and No. 14 Penn State. The Razorbacks were ranked No. 15 at the end of the season with a No. 10 ranking on beam and No. 13 on floor.

Cook also spearheads Arkansas' commitment in the classroom, and she leads by example. Last spring, she earned her doctor of education degree (Ed.D.) from Arkansas. In 2010, the Razorbacks led the SEC and placed 16th in the country with a team grade point average of 3.4369. Arkansas was also No. 16 in 2009 with a 3.4309 GPA, No. 14 in 2003, No. 10 in 2004, No. 7 in 2005 and No. 21 in 2007.

Cook's teams have posted a 3.30 GPA or better each year. She has coached seven All-SEC selections, eight All-Americans to 28 selections, 69 SEC Academic Honor Roll members, 62 National Association for Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches for Women Academic Scholar-Athletes and numerous Arkansas Women's Athletics Department Honor Roll selections.

Cook also oversees production of floor music, floor choreography, team building, and assists on vault and floor exercise coaching.

In addition to her full complement of coaching duties in the gym, she spends numerous hours recruiting and coordinating the staff's recruiting efforts.

STARTING A PROGRAM

When Cook moved to Fayetteville in 2001, her assignment was to turn Arkansas gymnastics into a nationally competitive, academically superior crowd-pleasing program – from scratch.

When she arrived, there was no gym, no equipment, no leotards and no team, but on May 7, 2001, she accepted that challenge and quickly built Arkansas into a program any coach would be proud of. Cook's initial duties included consulting on the construction of one of the nation's best practice facilities and assembling a team good enough to compete in the country's toughest gymnastics conference, the SEC.

Cook, along with husband and co-head coach Mark Cook, inked a recruiting class of 11 freshmen, convincing the team to take a chance on building a program from the ground up.

The first team finished the year with a No. 41 national ranking, including a No. 38 rating on beam. The second season, 2004,

In 2006, the first recruiting class in school history helped Arkansas upset No. 9 UCLA in the NCAA South Central Regional, took the Razorbacks to their first NCAA Championship and ended the year ranked No. 12 with a No. 18 beam ranking.

PRIOR TO ARKANSAS

Together with her husband Mark, René helped lead Stanford to its first Pac-10 championship in women's gymnastics in 1998 and repeated the feat in 2001. Under the Cooks' tutelage, the Cardinal had its first national champion gymnast, Larissa Fontaine, on vault in 1997. Cook also coached numerous All-Americans while at Stanford, including three on beam. Among those, Lindsey Wing finished second in the NCAA individual event finals and Katy Herbert finished third.

In addition to coaching Magee to SEC and regional beam titles, she coached two Pac-10 champions and two NCAA Regional title winners at Stanford.

The Cooks produced Stanford's first NCAA Regional champions as well, picking up four in their four seasons with the Cardinal. Stanford enjoyed success in the classroom as well with 14 Scholastic All-America selections and 17 selections to the Pac-10 All-Academic Team during the Cooks' time in Palo Alto.

Before moving to Stanford as the assistant coach, Cook was the assistant coach at Penn State for the 1997 season. She helped the Lady Lions to the NCAA Northeast Region title and an 11th-place finish at the NCAA Championship.

Cook worked for three seasons as the assistant coach at Massachusetts prior to Penn State. At UMass, she was responsible for balance beam and assisted with recruiting.

She also coached an NCAA Regional beam champion at both Penn State and UMass.

Samantha Cortez is in her first season as an assistant coach with the Razorbacks, but she is certainly no stranger to the program.

The native of Verona, N.J., competed for the Razorbacks for four years and spent the three previous seasons on the staff as the director of operations.

A four-year letterwinner from 2005-08, as an assistant coach, she will be involved in recruiting, coaching and choreographing routines for the Razorbacks.

After earning her bachelor's degree in psychology in 2008, she went on to receive her master's in clinical mental health counseling. During this time, 2009-11, she served as Arkansas' director of operations. In that role, she handled day-to-day office management, coordination of meet officials and meet management, scheduled pre- and post-meet entertainment, coordinated team entries and assisted with scoring, and assisted with team building activities.

She also coordinated team meals, team ticket requests, assisted with on-campus recruiting, created choreography for private club gymnasts, administered summer camp registration, and coordinated the organization of counselors and participants.

As a student-athlete, she helped Arkansas earn four bids to an NCAA Regional with the program's first two NCAA Championship appearances in 2006 and 2008.

She still holds spots in Arkansas' all-time top 10 with scores of 9.925 on vault, which ties for seventh, and 9.925 on floor, which ties for ninth.

A three-time Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll selection, she was named to the National Association for Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches for Women all-scholar team in 2008.

Following her senior season, a team award, the Samantha Cortez Leadership Award, was created in her honor. It has been awarded only one other time, to Amy DeFilippo, Casey Jo Magee and Sarah Nagashima in 2010.

In 2005, her freshman team recorded wins over No. 10 Kentucky and No. 12 Auburn, and finished fourth in the NCAA East Regional.

In 2006, Arkansas upset No. 9 UCLA to finish second in the NCAA South Central Regional and send the Razorbacks to the NCAA Championship for the first time.

As a junior in 2007, she helped Arkansas record 17 wins with victories over No. 14 Penn State and No. 15 Auburn, and a third-place finish in the NCAA Northeast Regional.

Her senior year, Arkansas beat No. 6 Alabama, No. 9 UCLA, No. 12 Penn State, No. 15 Michigan State and No. 20 Kentucky. The Southeastern Conference is the most dominating gymnastics conference in the NCAA, and Arkansas enhanced that reputation with eight NCAA Regional appearances and five trips to the NCAA Championship in just nine years of existence.

Since the inaugural NCAA Championship in 1982, the SEC has had at least one team in all 30 national championship meets, with Florida being one of only two teams nationally (Utah is the other) to have appeared at all 20 contests prior to the Gators barely missing the cut in 2000. The SEC has also had at least one team finish in the Top 10 in the NCAA every year since 1982.

The SEC entered the record books at the 1998 NCAA Championship, becoming the only conference in women's collegiate gymnastics to sweep the top three spots. Georgia won its fourth championship title with the largest margin of victory in over 10 years. The Gym'Dogs outdistanced second-place Florida, which finished just ahead of Alabama. It marked the 12th consecutive year the SEC placed at least two teams in the final top five.

In 2004, the SEC placed three teams in the top five at the NCAA Championship. Georgia won the SEC's 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th national championships in 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008 and 2009. Arkansas advanced from NCAA regionals to the NCAA Championship in 2006, 2008, 2009, 2010 and 2011, and the SEC set a record with five teams advancing to the Super Six in 2009, including the Razorbacks. Alabama won the SEC's 15th national title in 2011 with Florida (7th), Arkansas (t9th) and Georgia (t9th) also finishing in the top 10.

2011 SEC Championship Review

Arkansas recorded its best finish ever at the Southeastern Conference Championship by finishing fourth with a 195.800 at the meet in Birmingham, Ala.

"This is the best finish we've ever had at the SEC meet," co-head coach Mark Cook said. "Our best finish before was fifth. We thought we were a little ahead of Georgia after three events, but we couldn't hold them off. This is the hardest meet of the year."

Jaime Pisani tied for second on vault, Mariah Howdeshell tied for seventh on bars, Katherine Grable tied for seventh on beam and Pisani tied for third on floor. In the all-around, Grable was fifth, Jordan Salsberg 13th and Grable 14th.

"Katherine had a great meet, Jaime was outstanding on three events and Mariah had a big bars routine," Cook said.

Arkansas set a school record for team vault score in the SEC meet, and Pisani tied the school records on vault and floor.

Arkansas opened with a bye, then moved to floor for its first event and scored a 48.975. For the Razorbacks, Pisani tied the school record for the SEC meet with a 9.90. Grable had a 9.85, Kelci Lewis a 9.80, Amy Borsellino a 9.775, Salsberg a 9.65 and Amanda Siebert a 9.625.

Siebert stumbled on one of her passes and Salsberg stepped out of bounds for a deduction. Pisani tied the school record already shared with Dana McQuillin.

Arkansas' 48.975 is its fifth-best in the SEC meet.

Through two rotations, Alabama had a 98.375 through two events, Florida a 49.25, Arkansas a 48.975, Georgia a 48.90, Kentucky a 48.725, Auburn a 48.70 and LSU a 47.925.

Following floor, Arkansas had another bye, then moved to vault, where the Razorbacks set a school record for the SEC meet with a 49.325, which also ties for the sixth-best in school history for any meet.

Pisani had a 9.90, tying Michelle Stout's school record for the SEC meet set in 2009. Grable and Salsberg had a 9.875 each, Stout a 9.85, Borsellino a 9.825 and Siebert a 9.725. Borsellino and Salsberg matched their career highs.

Through Arkansas' vault rotation, the meet scores were Alabama 147.725, Kentucky 145.275, Arkansas 98.30, Florida 98.20, Georgia 98.15, Auburn 97.525 and LSU 96.975. Alabama and Kentucky's scores were through three events. The others were through two.

After another bye, Arkansas moved to bars and had a 48.675.

Mariah Howdeshell had a 9.85, Stout a 9.825, Grable a 9.75, Genny Salvatore a 9.70, Salsberg a 9.55 and Pisani a 9.175.

On beam, the Razorbacks scored a 48.825. Grable had a 9.85, Pisani a 9.80, Salsberg, Scarlett Williams and Stacy Bartlett a 9.725 each, and Shelby Salmon a 9.65.

Casey Jo Magee holds the school's top two SEC Championship marks on beam and in the all-around.

Arkansas knocked off No. 1 Florida for the second time and won the NCAA North Central Regional in Denver to advance to the NCAA Gymnastics Championship.

In its ninth season, Arkansas' program earned a spot in a regional for the eighth straight year and earned a spot as one of the top 12 teams in the NCAA Championship five times, all in the last six years.

"That meet was kind of insane," co-head coach René Cook said. "About halfway through, I was looking at the scores thinking anyone could win. We focused on what we had to do. We kept our energy level up and hit our routines. We got to the last rotation and I knew we were right there to win. We knew it, but the girls didn't know it."

Arkansas, which beat No. 1 Florida in Fayetteville on Feb. 25, 196.70-196.10, won the regional with a 196.55, which is the school's second-best score for a regional.

No. 1 Florida was second with a 196.425, followed by No. 13 Boise State with 196.40, No. 19 Denver 195.625, No. 20 Arizona 195.40 and No. 27 Brigham Young 194.65.

"I'm very proud of the girls," co-head coach Mark Cook said. "They were really tough and kept fighting. Our goal is to get back to the Super Six. We were there a couple years ago (2009). That's the next step."

The regional title is the second for Arkansas. The Razorbacks won the South Central Regional in Fayetteville in 2009.

Arkansas had scores of 48.90 on beam, 49.30 on floor, 49.175 on vault and 49.175 on bars.

Individually, Jaime Pisani won floor with a 9.95, Katherine Grable tied for the vault title with a 9.90, Mariah Howdeshell tied for third on bars with a 9.90, Pisani was fourth on vault with a 9.875 and Grable fourth on beam with a 9.85.

In the all-around, Grable was second with a 39.475 and Pisani third with a 39.375.

Arkansas opened on beam and scored a 48.90.

Grable posted a 9.85, followed by Jordan Salsberg with a 9.825, Stacy Bartlett a 9.775, Scarlett Williams a 9.75 and Shelby Salmon a 9.725. Arkansas' 48.90 is its fifth-best ever in an NCAA Regional. Grable's 9.85 tied for the fifth-best individual mark.

After one rotation, and with Boise State and Arizona in a bye, Arkansas sat in third, behind Florida's 49.225 and BYU's 48.95.

Arkansas had a bye after beam, then moved to floor, where the Razorbacks set a school regional record with a 49.30. Pisani tied the school record, which she already shared, with a 9.95. That was her third 9.95 of the season. Grable had a 9.90, Amy Borsellino a 9.85, and Bailee Zumwalde, Jordan Salsberg and Kelci Lewis all had a 9.80.

Salsberg's 9.80 matched her season high while Zumwalde's 9.80 was just short of her season best of 9.825, Borsellino's 9.85 just short of her best of 9.875 and Grable's 9.90 just short of her best of 9.925. Pisani's 9.95 was also a school record for a regional while Grable's 9.90 tied the previous record and now ties for second.

Through three rotations, Arkansas had a 98.20 and trailed Florida's 98.525 and Boise State's 98.25.

For the fourth rotation, Arkansas had a 49.175 on vault. Grable led with a 9.90, which matched her season high, followed by Pisani with a 9.875, Borsellino with a career-high 9.85, Michelle Stout a 9.80, and Amanda Siebert and Salsberg a 9.75 each. The team total tied for the third-best mark in school history in a regional. Grable's 9.90 tied the school record for a regional.

The Razorbacks won the 2011 NCAA North Central Regional title in Denver.

Junior All-American Jaime Pisani won floor and sophomore Amy Borsellino tied for third on vault to lead Arkansas to a tie for fourth in the NCAA Championship Session I semifinal and a tie for ninth in the nation overall.

Arkansas missed advancing to the Super Six by one spot with the top three teams from each semifinal sessions advancing, but the Razorbacks tied No. 7 Georgia and beat No. 11 Illinois.

Oklahoma won the meet with a 196.775, followed by Michigan with a 196.70, UCLA 196.50, Arkansas and Georgia with a 195.45, and Illinois 195.10.

"We tied Georgia for fourth, which is good," co-head coach Mark Cook said. "Razorbacks are tenacious. We kept fighting and that's the attitude we want to see. We have a lot of young kids and had a lot of highlights with the SEC regular-season title, beating Georgia for the first time, beating No. 1 Florida twice and winning the regional."

Individually, Pisani matched her overall school record on floor for the fourth time and set a school record for the NCAA Championship with a 9.95. Borsellino had a career-high 9.90 on vault, which is the second-best mark in school history in the championship.

In addition, freshman Katherine Grable tied for fourth on floor and for seventh on vault, Pisani tied for seventh on beam and sophomore Kelci Lewis tied for eighth on floor. In the all-around, Pisani was fifth with a 39.35, Grable 11th with a 38.80 and sophomore Jordan Salsberg 12th with a 38.60.

Arkansas had the traditional Olympic order rotation of vault, bye, bars, beam, bye and floor.

The Razorbacks opened with a 49.15 on vault and finished with a 49.275 on floor, but had a 48.575 on bars and a 48.45 on beam.

The 49.15 on vault was the team's fourth-best score of the season. Borsellino had the 9.90, followed by Grable with a 9.875, Amanda Siebert and Jordan Salsberg with a 9.80 each, Pisani a 9.775 and Michelle Stout a 9.65.

The scores for Borsellino and Siebert were career highs. Borsellino's 9.90 is the second-best in school history in the NCAA Championship to Stout's overall school record 9.975 in 2009.

Through the first rotation, Arkansas led the meet with its 49.15, followed by Georgia with a 49.075 on bars, Oklahoma's 49.00 on floor and Michigan's 48.75 on beam.

After its first bye, Arkansas scored a 48.575 on bars. The Razorbacks had one fall and were forced to count a mistake.

Pisani, Grable and junior Genny Salvatore all had a 9.825 and Mariah Howdeshell a 9.80, followed by Salsberg with a 9.30 and Stout a 9.075. The 9.825s by Salvatore, Pisani and Grable tie for eighth-best in school history in the NCAA Championship.

The Razorbacks moved to beam and scored a 48.45 after counting a mistake.

Pisani had a 9.80, Salsberg a 9.75, freshman Scarlett Williams and 9.70, senior Stacy Bartlett and freshman Shelby Salmon a 9.60 each, and Grable a 9.20.

Arkansas has marched into the NCAA Championship four straight years and five of the last six.

The 9.80 by Pisani was the ninth-best for Arkansas in the championship.

"On bars, we were a little tight," Cook said. "Then we were pretty good on beam."

Following a bye, Arkansas closed on floor with a 49.275. Pisani tied her overall school record with a 9.95. Grable had a 9.90, Lewis a 9.85, Borsellino a 9.825, and Salsberg and freshman Bailee Zumwalde a 9.75 each.

"On floor, we were awesome," Cook said. "Jaime was outstanding."

The Razorbacks advanced to Cleveland after winning the NCAA North Central Regional in Denver. Arkansas beat No. 1 Florida for the second time in the season in the regional, and also topped No. 13 Boise State, No. 19 Denver, No. 20 Arizona and No. 27 Brigham Young.

Arkansas made its fourth consecutive appearance in the NCAA Championship and fifth in six years. Arkansas competed for the first time in 2003, but the five championship appearances already rank 18th in the country. Over the nine-year stretch the program has existed, the five appearances rank 12th in the nation. The Razorbacks have earned a spot in an NCAA Regional eight straight years, every year except the first season.

As a team, Arkansas finished 16-10-1. In the NCAA individual event finals, Pisani tied for fifth on floor and seventh in the all-around, Grable tied for ninth on floor and Borsellino was 15th on vault.

Where Dreams Come True

The long wait was over and No. 18 Arkansas made the program's first appearance at the NCAA Championship in Corvallis, Ore., in 2006.

Arkansas, wrapping up its fourth season of gymnastics, became one of the final 12 teams competing after a second-place finish at the South Central Regional in Barnhill April 8.

Arkansas opened in the evening session facing Georgia, Iowa State, Oregon State, Florida and Arizona State.

Arkansas entered the meet as the underdog as the program's first senior class had guided the Razorbacks from a start-up to a contender. Seniors Katie Hardman, Melissa Leigh, Audra Loveless, Hannah McLeod and Dana McQuillin competed in their final meet in the Cardinal and White in Corvallis.

Arkansas scored a 194.375, finishing behind a blistering 197.300 from defending national champion Georgia, which won the second session to advance. Iowa State snuck in ahead of Florida with a 196.250 while the Gators posted a 196.225 as both teams advanced to the finals.

In 2011, Arkansas became the first gymnastics program in the Southeastern Conference to be recognized by the NCAA as one of the top performing programs in the nation by receiving a public recognition award for its standing among the top 10 percent in the nation in multi-year Academic Progress Rate (APR).

"Our goals are to be successful in the classroom and in the gym, and we are pleased to be recognized by the NCAA for our academic success," co-head coach René Cook, who completed her doctorate in education in 2011, says. "Last year we led the SEC in team grade point average and this year the NCAA recognizes us as a team of distinction, and we are excited about both accomplishments. We have emphasized academics and athletics since we began the program, and we take pride in how we represent the University of Arkansas in both areas."

Arkansas produced seven All-America honors in the gym in 2011 and the Razorbacks matched that in the classroom with seven individuals earning Academic Scholar-Athlete honors from the National Association for Collegiate Gymnastics Coaches for Women. The seven NACGC/W honors are the most in a season for Arkansas since nine Razorbacks made the list in 2006. Arkansas has placed at least four on the national list every year the program has existed.

Razorbacks on the list included Stacy Bartlett, Natalie Bohonsky, Kelci Lewis, Jaime Pisani, Genny Salvatore, Michelle Stout and Bailee Zumwalde. Salvatore tied for first in the nation with her 4.0 grade point average in art.

In addition, Stout became the first Razorback to earn the SEC's Scholar-Athlete of the Year award.

Bartlett had a 3.75 in nutrition and hospitality, Bohonsky a 3.72 in journalism, Lewis a 3.85 in kinesiology, Pisani a 3.89 in kinesiology, Stout a 3.88 in recreation and sport management, and Zumwalde a 3.74 in kinesiology.

Michelle Stout was the 2011 Southeastern Conference Scholar-Athlete of the Year

Each semester, the University of Arkansas Athletics Department recognizes its student-athletes' success in the classroom with selection to a department honor roll. The Athletics Department honors student-athletes who earn a perfect 4.0 grade point average as Academic Champions. Student-athletes with grade points ranging from 3.50-3.99 earn Athletic Directors List honors and those with grades in the 3.00-3.49 range are honored on the Honor Roll. Founded in 1871, The University of Arkansas is the flagship institution of the University of Arkansas System. Located in Fayetteville in Arkansas' northwest corner, the U of A is the state's foremost partner and resource for education and economic development.

The U of A offers 213 baccalaureate, master's, doctoral, professional and specialist degree programs. In keeping with its status as Arkansas' land-grant university, the U of A has a 140-year-old mandate to educate, to conduct basic and applied research, and to extend knowledge and resources to the people of Arkansas and beyond through public engagement and service. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching recently classified the U of A as a national research university with a very high level of research activity, based on the number of doctoral degrees awarded, research grants received, and other factors. The U of A is the only Arkansas institution with such a ranking, and is among just 108 institutions in the United States (out of 4,633) to have received that classification.

The U of A has enormous influence over Arkansans' social, cultural, and recreational life, especially the widespread passion for the university's athletics teams, the Arkansas Razorbacks. The U of A's location in northwest Arkansas is viewed as one of the university's strongest attributes. Fayetteville is widely recognized as one of the best college communities in the U.S. The city's Dickinson Street district abuts the U of A campus and features scores of restaurants, shops, and entertainment venues. Northwest Arkansas is a vibrant economic region with a national reputation for its high quality of life.

Three of the U.S.'s largest corporations have their world headquarters in the region: Tyson Foods, J.B. Hunt Transportation, and the world's largest retailer, Walmart Corp. Because of their presence, many other corporations have established primary or secondary headquarters in

OLD MAIN

One of the original buildings on Arkansas' campus, Old Main symbolizes the strong connection to the past and the focus upon the future which come together in the present at the University of Arkansas. Completed in 1875, Old Main stood the test of time until the mid-1980s when age and modern building codes threatened to send it to the wrecking ball as had happened to its sister building at the University of Illinois. A major fund-raising campaign by alumni totally renovated Old Main. Reopening in 1992, the building maintains the feel of a Victorian-era building with high ceilings and elaborate wooden trim. Just below the surface of the period hardwood floors, Old Main is hard-wired to the internet and built to last well into its second century.

Even with renovation, Old Main remained unfinished until 2005. One of the gifts during the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century specified the installation of a clock, originally planned for the blank faces of the south tower.

As mentioned, Old Main was built from shared plans with its counterpart on the Illinois campus, with one important difference. The north tower of Arkansas' Old Main is taller than the south tower. Legend says this was symbolic of the Civil War as the lead engineer was a northern veteran.

Northwest Arkansas. Their close proximity to the U of A campus, along with their executives' and employees' active involvement in university life, offers students and faculty exceptional opportunities for research partnerships, internships, and post-graduation employment.

The U of A boasts one of the most unique features and traditions found on any college or university campus: Senior Walk, a nearly three-mile stretch of concrete sidewalks criss-crossing campus into which the names of every U of A graduate is engraved. More than 140,000 names currently appear, grouped alphabetically by year of graduation. Senior Walk epitomizes the university's emphasis on "putting students first," a philosophy captured in its tag line, "the YOU of A."

The U of A features distinctive architecture, including its signature building, Old Main, finished in 1875. As the original administrative facility, the iconic building now houses the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences. The college is named in honor of former U of A President (and, later, U.S. Senator) J. William Fulbright, who helped create the prestigious international scholarship and fellowship programs that bear his name. The U of A's distinctive Fulbright Peace Fountain, designed by architect Fay Jones, recognizes its namesake's role in promoting peaceful resolution of world conflicts.

Academically, the U of A is organized into ten schools and colleges: the Dale Bumpers College of Agricultural, Food and Life Sciences; the College of Education and Health Professions; the College of Engineering; the J. William Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences; and the Sam M. Walton College of Business. The university also features the Fay Jones School of Architecture, the Graduate School, the Honors College, the School of Law and the Global Campus, which provides academic outreach and programs to more than 15,000 learners a year.

The U of A's total annual operating budget for FY2011 is $528 million. Tuition and fee revenues make up the largest source of revenues, followed by an annual state appropriation. Almost 77 percent of all full-time undergraduate students receive some form of financial aid. U of A undergraduate tuition rates were ranked 38th lowest in the nation among land-grant universities, in keeping with the university's emphasis on keeping itself accessible and affordable.

In September 2010, the U of A enrolled a record 21,406 students. The student body consisted of students from all 50 states and more than 100 countries. More than 300 student organizations also exist on campus. There are plenty of things to do on- and off-campus. The HPER Center, the university's state-of-the-art recreational facility, offers a great place to climb, swim, run, lift weights, do aerobics and yoga, or play basketball. Cultural and recreational options include attending lectures, readings, and theatrical performances, shopping opportunities, and listening to live music on nearby Dickson Street.

In 2009, University Chancellor G. David Gearhart presented a long-range strategic plan that was formally endorsed by the elected leaders of the faculty, staff, and student body. The plan emphasizes a commitment to "students first," and outlines goals and strategies to ensure that all students receive the resources and support they need to achieve their academic goals. The plan also emphasizes the U of A's commitment to transparency and accountability to the people of Arkansas in its operation.

SENIOR WALK

The University of Arkansas is proud to be the last university in the nation maintaining what once was a common tradition of etching its graduates' names into the campus sidewalks. The 100,000th graduate's name went down in cement during the 1990s. The names on Senior Walk stretch over three miles of campus sidewalks.

The story of Senior Walk is a perfect example of how the University of Arkansas brings its commitment to the past together with innovations for the future. When the costs involved in hand-etching names into concrete forced numerous other universities to give up, the University of Arkansas turned to its physical plant and engineering school grads to create a one-of-a-kind computerized sandblasting machine -- the SandHog. Each summer, the SandHog roars across the front lawn of Old Main, etching the names of graduates into sidewalks.

CHANCELLOR DR. G. DAVID GEARHART

Dr. G. David Gearhart became the chancellor of the University of Arkansas on July 1, 2008, following 10 years of service to the university as vice chancellor for university advancement. Previously he was senior vice president of Penn State University, during which time he was named a Fulbright Scholar, studying at Oxford University in Oxford, England.

His Bachelor of Arts degree is from Westminster College in Missouri. Both his law degree and his doctor of education degree are from the University of Arkansas. He is a native of Fayetteville.

Prior to being appointed chancellor, Dr. Gearhart oversaw the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, the most successful capital campaign in Arkansas history, which raised more than $1 billion for academic programs.

As chancellor, Dr. Gearhart instituted the first tuition freeze in 24 years and implemented a $220 million campus building renovation and refurbishment plan, as well as a campus-wide energy savings plan. He has also undertaken a renewed emphasis on the arts on campus, including the establishment of the "All Steinway Campus."

Dr. Gearhart has additionally implemented a major cost savings program that has already resulted in over $29.4 million in cost reduction and savings to the flagship campus. Campus enrollment has also grown by nearly 4,000 students in the past three years to almost 22,000 students. At the same time, diversity in the student body has increased significantly.

He and his wife of more than 35 years, Jane, have two children and two grandchildren.

FACULTY ATHLETIC REPRESENTATIVE DR. SHARON HUNT

Chancellor G. David Gearhart appointed Dr. Sharon Hunt to be the faculty athletics representative (FAR) for the University of Arkansas in August 2010.

Dr. Hunt is the first woman and non-lawyer to hold the post. Dr. Hunt has been on the University of Arkansas faculty for 21 years and has served as head of the recently renamed Department of Health, Human Performance and Recreation in the College of Education and Health Professions for that entire time except for the 2000-01 academic year, when she served as interim dean of the college. On June 30, 2011 Dr. Hunt stepped down as Department Head and returned to the faculty at the rank of Professor giving her more time to devote to the FAR position.

A high school athlete, Hunt's involvement with collegiate athletics dates back to her own college days at the University of Arkansas when she played extramural sports with the women's basketball and tennis teams prior to the enactment of Title IX.

After receiving her bachelor's and master's degrees in physical education from the university, she went on to earn a doctor of education degree from the University of Georgia, where she taught a variety of sport-activity courses as a graduate assistant. Upon the completion of her doctoral degree, she joined the faculty of the University of Kentucky for 13 years, where she taught both undergraduate and graduate courses and served as the graduate coordinator for the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. In 1990, she and her family returned to Fayetteville.

The FAR's responsibilities lie in three broad areas: academic integrity within the athletics program, student-athlete well-being, and institutional control of the athletics program. Dr. Hunt is involved in the student-athlete advisory council on campus and chairs the Academic Credential Review Committee and Athletic's Academic Integrity Committee, and serves as an ex-officio member of the Faculty Athletics Committee. In addition, she travels to represent the University of Arkansas at various SEC and NCAA meetings.

Dr. Hunt was instrumental in establishing the graduate athletic training education program in the College of Education and Health Professions, and she has worked closely with athletics on that program. The athletics department provides support to students in the athletic training education program in the form of a stipend, books and travel to the Arkansas Athletic Trainers' Association annual meeting. Two endowed scholarships for athletic training students in honor of longtime Razorback trainers Dean Weber and the late Bill Ferrell were established through the athletics department.

Dr. Hunt has been married to David Hunt since 1973, and they have an adult son and daughter as well as a grandson.

VICE CHANCELLOR FOR INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS & DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS JEFF LONG

Entering his fourth full year as Vice Chancellor and Director of Athletics, Jeff Long has guided the University of Arkansas' Department of Intercollegiate Athletics through a period of unprecedented transition while revitalizing a tradition-rich athletics program encompassing 19 sports and more than 460 student-athletes.

Long leads a comprehensive athletics program uniformly committed to the development of student-athletes academically, athletically and socially. A part of Chancellor G. David Gearhart's Executive Committee, Long is helping to chart the course for the future of higher education at the University of Arkansas while integrating Razorback Athletics into the campus community. In each of the past two years, Razorback Athletics has made a $1 million gift to support the university's academic mission bringing the department's support of the greater university community to nearly $4 million.

In Long's tenure, Arkansas has captured eight conference championships and advanced to 53 post-season competitions, including the school's first Bowl Championship Series appearance in football, while drawing more than a million fans annually to campus to cheer on the Razorbacks. In 2010-11, Arkansas finished in the top 25 of the NACDA Sports Directors Cup for the third time in the past four years, marking the first time in school history that has been accomplished.

In the classroom, the Razorbacks continue to set new standards including posting a student-athlete grade point average exceeding 3.0 for an unprecedented third consecutive year. Arkansas exceeds the national APR multi-year rate by more than 10 points in 18 sports and has seen a steady rise in graduation success rates.

Student-athlete development has also been a priority including the establishment of the Razorback Leadership Academy, the first of its kind in the Southeastern Conference. In the community, Razorback student-athletes are more active than ever volunteering more than 3,300 hours of time for more than 80 agencies, organizations and schools.

Long was selected to replace legendary athletic director and former Razorback football coach Frank Broyles and even before he officially took the reins on Jan. 1, 2008, Arkansas announced that it would combine its previously independent men's and women's athletic programs into one combined athletic program. Long adeptly blended the men's and women's athletic departments into one unified department and established a new administrative structure.

He has recruited some of the nation's most successful coaches to Arkansas including head football coach Bobby Petrino and head men's basketball coach Mike Anderson. He also signed head baseball coach Dave Van Horn to a long-term deal to remain in Fayetteville. In fact, Arkansas is one of only four schools in the nation to boast coaches who have made a BCS bowl game, the Elite Eight and the College World Series.

Long has also worked tirelessly to maintain long-time relationships and to forge new relationships for the benefit of the Razorback program including extending Arkansas' relationship with War Memorial Stadium and helping re-establish the Razorbacks' presence in Texas, partnering with former Razorback Jerry Jones to develop the Southwest Classic, a 10-year football series with Texas A&M played at the spectacular Cowboys Stadium.

As economic indicators were beginning to point toward challenging economic times, Long signed Arkansas to a deal with IMG College to form Razorback Sports Properties that guarantees the Razorback program $73 million during the course of the decade-long agreement. Long also negotiated an extensive all sports apparel and footwear agreement with NIKE, Inc. that will outfit all 19 Razorback sports programs through the 2014-15 season.

Working alongside the Razorback Foundation leadership team, the athletic department recently launched the "Answer the Call" campaign to help meet the growing financial needs of fielding a nationally competitive all sports program. More than 2,600 new members have joined the Razorback Foundation while helping generate much needed support for Razorback student-athletes.

A number of athletic facilities have also seen a transformation with Bud Walton Arena undergoing extensive renovations, including replacement of the lower seating bowl and the addition of courtside seating, ribbon boards and a courtside club room. In the spring of 2009, a new synthetic playing surface was installed at Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium.

With an eye towards the future, Long commissioned a master plan to assess the future facility needs of the program. Construction of a new football center is already underway with a targeted completion date in 2013.

A veteran administrator with a track record of the highest commitment to the concept of "student-athlete," Long has had more than two decades experience in athletic administration at the Division I level including at the University of Pittsburgh, University of Oklahoma, University of Michigan, Virginia Tech University, Eastern Kentucky University and Rice University. Long also understands the coach's perspective from time spent in coaching staff positions at Duke University, University of Michigan and North Carolina State University.

His experience as an athletic director and administrator in America's most prestigious conferences – the Big 12, Big Ten, Big East, Atlantic Coast and now SEC – gives Long a uniquely informed perspective on intercollegiate athletics. During his career, Long has served in five of the six Bowl Championship Series leagues.

On the forefront of NCAA governance, Long has served on the NCAA Management Council, the NCAA's Sports Wagering Task Force and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association. Long currently serves on the NCAA Championships Sports Management Cabinet.

Prior to assuming his current roles at Arkansas, Long served for four years as the athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh. Long redefined Pitt athletics, most notably through the "Quest for Excellence" campaign that raised nearly $34 million to enhance the student-athlete experience. During his tenure the Panthers' were selected as the No. 17 overall program in the nation in the December 2006 Sports Illustrated on Campus' All-Sport Rankings.

Before arriving at Pitt, Long was senior associate athletic director at Oklahoma for two and a half years overseeing external affairs for the Sooners. In addition, Long was the primary administrator for the Sooners' highly successful football and men's basketball programs, along with sport supervision of baseball, wrestling and both golf teams.

Long's first appointment as a director of athletics was at Eastern Kentucky where he served for two and a half years. Prior to Eastern, Long had a brief stay with Virginia Tech as an associate athletics director.

He began his career in college athletic administration at Michigan, hired by legendary coach and athletics director, the late Bo Schembechler. During his seasons with the Wolverines, Long was promoted through a series of posts to the position of associate athletics director.

A former two-sport athlete at Ohio Wesleyan, Long earned seven varsity letters for the Bishops in football and baseball before completing his degree in economics in 1982. He started his post-graduate career in athletics working on head coach Tom Reed's staff as a graduate assistant football coach at the cradle of coaches, Miami University of Ohio. Long earned his master's in education at Miami in 1983, moving on to football staff positions at Rice, Duke and N.C. State prior to joining Michigan.

An Ohio native from Kettering, Long is married to the former Fanny Gellrich of Ann Arbor, Mich. The Longs have two daughters, Stephanie and Christina.

The Longs: (l-r): Stephanie, Christina, Jeff and Fanny.

In 1998, she was voted into the University Of Arkansas Hall Of Honor by the university's letterwinners in recognition of her contributions both as a coach and an administrator.

RAZORBACK SUPPORT SERVICES

ACADEMIC SERVICES

Recognizing the difficulty of balancing the demands of athletic competition at the highest level and completion of the rigorous academic standards of a Carnegie research-level university, the Razorback Athletic Department provides support services through both facilities and personnel to guide Arkansas student-athletes to their ultimate goal: University of Arkansas diploma.

The key components of the Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement (SAASA) are personal development, career development, academic tutoring, study hall facilities, class attendance monitoring and incentive awards recognizing academic achievement.

THE BOGLE ACADEMIC CENTER

There is no higher priority for the University of Arkansas Athletic Department than the academic progress of its scholar-athletes. Thanks to the generous gift of Bob and Marilyn Bogle, the home of the Razorback Athletic Department's Student-Athlete Academic Support and Achievement program is the Bob and Marilyn Bogle Academic Center. The 15,000-square foot Bogle Academic Center is located in the east side of Donald W. Reynolds Razorback Stadium. Under the overall direction of Senior Associate Athletic Director Jon Fagg, the Bogle Academic Center houses the Arkansas Razorbacks Academic Support Program, the Razorback Office of Student Life and the Career Development Program.

Associate Athletic Director for Student-Athlete Support Services Melissa Harwood-Rom oversees the staff of professionals dedicated to directing student-athletes to reach their personal academic goals, and to do so in ways that balance their academic, athletic and personal lives.

STUDY HALL AND TUTORS

A quiet setting for uninterrupted study, the Bogle Academic Center provides three types of study hall space. The computer lab has more than 30 stations for individual computer-based study. An open study hall is available for group or individual study, and monitored by staff members of the SAASA. There are 17 individual study carrels that provide space for tutors to meet with student-athletes for individual instruction in specific subjects.

Each Razorback team sets its own criteria for study hall attendance. The use of tutors is a key element for academic success, allowing for individualized assistance and for reaching academic excellence in advanced subjects.

STUDENT-ATHLETE DEVELOPMENT

The mission of the Student-Athlete Development Office is to contribute to the personal growth and character development of Razorback student-athletes through holistic programming for success in life.

The Student-Athlete Development Office continues to expand its commitment to the offerings and opportunities in the following areas:

- * Academic Excellence
- * Athletic Excellence
- * Career Development and Graduate School Preparation
- * Community Service
- * Personal Development
- * Health and Wellness
- * Leadership and Character Development
- * Financial Planning

Our Goals

- * Invest in the personal development of our student-athletes through various programs that enable them to be successful in the classroom, the community, and in their athletic activities.

The Student-Athlete Development Office coordinated more than 3,000 hours dedicated to service in Northwest Arkansas and worldwide. Razorback student-athletes worked with more than 80 agencies giving of their time and energy last season.

Razorback student-athletes took advantage of the Razorback Leadership Academy, the first of its kind in the SEC in 2010-11 as well. Student-athletes, coaches and staff were shown steps to become better leaders on their teams, in the classroom, in the workplace and in life.

Finally, student-athletes participated in Hogs in Transition, a program designed to help Razorbacks make the move to life after college and athletics. Student-athletes took part in career fairs, corporate office visits and interview training.

COMPLIANCE

The University of Arkansas Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is proud to have your interest and support in the Razorbacks. The Razorback Athletics Compliance Office works hard to educate its student-athletes, coaches, staff and boosters on the rules and regulations mandated by the Southeastern Conference and the NCAA.

SEC and NCAA rules and regulations can be complex, and every situation is different. The Razorback Compliance Office makes every effort to disseminate information, and they encourage student-athletes, coaches, staff and boosters to contact them if there are questions.

The Razorback Athletics Department is proud of your support of the Razorbacks, but we caution you that inadvertent actions by our fans may jeopardize the department, current student-athletes or potential student-athletes.

MARKETING

The excitement of the University of Arkansas athletic teams continues to grow each season in the Southeastern Conference. Razorback football began a new era under head coach Bobby Petrino. Basketball coaches Mike Anderson and Tom Collen are bringing great excitement to Bud Walton Arena. Razorback baseball has witnessed an explosion of fans at Baum Stadium.

State-of-the-art facilities, the nation's best coaches and players and the greatest fans in college athletics come together for some of the most exciting events that take place in the state of Arkansas.

The Razorback marketing staff is a big part of the behind-the-scenes success of all 19 teams at the university. They assist in the branding of our image, getting information to our fans and helping to fill our venues.

Their work is evident in our stadiums, on the scoreboards and during pre-event, halftime and post-events. They work with sponsors, maintain the department's Facebook page and welcome new fans with creative ticket and suite packages.

The Razorback Marketing Office also handles the department's licensing and trademark guidelines making sure the fans get the Razorback quality they have come to expect.

SPIRIT SQUAD

Along with being a Razorback, serving as a Razorback cheerleader has a long tradition at the University of Arkansas. Currently, the Razorbacks have two squads, a Red and White, that inspire the crowds at all home sporting events.

Arkansas also has a dance team, the Razorback Pom Squad, which performs at halftime of many events. Members of the Pom Squad also serve at baseball games as RBI Girls. Arkansas has a team of uniformed mascots, led by the original Big Red, the Fighting Razorback. Sue E. joined the family along with kid-sized Pork Chop in the late 1990s. Boss Hog is a 9-foot-tall inflatable mascot that rounds out the team.

Jean Nail serves as the coordinator for cheerleaders and mascots. She is assisted by Kraig Jimenez and Brooke Bailey. For more information on the cheer squads and tryouts, go to the Spirit Squad section of ArkansasRazorbacks.com.
